

i am opposing the "established business relationship" just because i do business with a particular company doesn't mean i want them calling me trying to sell me something